

AAT Document Services is a legal document service and is not a law firm. AAT Document Services and employees are not acting as your attorney and nothing from any website or an employee of any employee should be construed as legal advice or the practice of law. AAT Document services provides legal document services, and is not a substitute for the advice of an attorney and cannot provide any form of legal advice. AAT Document Services and his employees do not engage in the practice of law. AAT Document Services is not allowed to provide any legal advice, opinion, explanation or suggestion about legal options, rights, forms or any other legal matter.

AAT Document Services provides general information on common legal issues and legal documents. Our website and software are designed to provide individuals the opportunity to prepare their own legal documents. As such, individuals using our software legal document services are responsible to review their submissions for accuracy, completeness, spelling, and correct names, addresses and other personal information. AAT Document Services is not responsible for inaccuracies or inconsistencies on an individual's submission. AAT Document Services is not permitted to provide legal advice to an individual or apply the law to a particular situation. In no way are his services a substitute for the advice of an attorney.

AAT Document Services is dedicated to providing quality, up-to-date and state specific documents but due to rapidly changing law, varying interpretations of the law and variance in each jurisdiction AAT Document Services cannot guarantee that all the information Online is completely current. AAT Document Services provides general information and general legal documents and cannot fit every personal legal situation.

AAT Document Services does not offer legal advice based on a specific problem. If you feel that your situation is too complex for our legal document services, please consult a licensed attorney in your area.

AAT Document Services is not responsible for any type of loss, claim, liability, damage, injury, or error related to the use of AAT Document Service's from errors and/or omissions on our website or in our legal document services. In addition, AAT Document Services is not responsible for any type of loss, claim, liability, damage, injury, or error from any related partner or partner's website related to his services.

AAT Document Services is a legal document service and is not a law firm. AAT Document Services and employees are not acting as your attorney and nothing from any website or an employee of any employee should be construed as legal advice or the practice of law. AAT Document services provides legal document services, and is not a substitute for the advice of an attorney and cannot provide any form of legal advice. AAT Document Services and his employees do not engage in the practice of law. AAT Document Services is not allowed to provide any legal advice, opinion, explanation or suggestion about legal options, rights, forms or any other legal matter.

AAT Document Services provides general information on common legal issues and legal documents. Our website and software are designed to provide individuals the opportunity to prepare their own legal documents. As such, individuals using our software legal document services are responsible to review their submissions for accuracy, completeness, spelling, and correct names, addresses and other personal information. AAT Document Services is not responsible for inaccuracies or inconsistencies on an individual's submission. AAT Document Services is not permitted to provide legal advice to an individual or apply the law to a particular situation. In no way are his services a substitute for the advice of an attorney.

AAT Document Services is dedicated to providing quality, up-to-date and state specific documents but due to rapidly changing law, varying interpretations of the law and variance in each jurisdiction AAT Document Services cannot guarantee that all the information Online is completely current. AAT Document Services provides general information and general legal documents and cannot fit every personal legal situation.

AAT Document Services does not offer legal advice based on a specific problem. If you feel that your situation is too complex for our legal document services, please consult a licensed attorney in your area.

AAT Document Services is not responsible for any type of loss, claim, liability, damage, injury, or error related to the use of AAT Document Service's from errors and/or omissions on our website or in our legal document services. In addition, AAT Document Services is not responsible for any type of loss, claim, liability, damage, injury, or error from any related partner or partner's website related to his services.

Signed

____/____/____